

1 THE COURT: Thank you.

2 The prosecutor?

3 MR. BOWEN: Thank you, Your Honor.

4

5

CROSS-EXAMINATION

6

BY MR. BOWEN:

7

Q. Mr. Murray, is it fair to say that you have said
8 in the past that coal is your life?

9

A. I don't think I ever said coal is my life. It's 10 certainly important. Maybe my working career, it's my 11 life. But my God and my family are ahead of the coal; my 12 employees. It depends on the context in which I might have 13 said it.

14

Q. Mr. Murray, is it true that you own approximately 15 somewhere in the vicinity of ten companies or have a
16 controlling interest in approximately ten companies, all of 17 which relate to the mining or transport or marketing of 18 Ohio, Pennsylvania, and Illinois coal?

19

A. You'd have to add Kentucky coal to that as well.
20 It's somewhere in that vicinity.

21

Q. And Ohio coal is what's called bituminous coal;
22 is that right?

23

A. Yes.

24

Q. And that is a higher sulfur content coal than 25 anthracite coal; is that right?